Jay Mandarinino is Canada's Printing Industry Leader of the Year

TORONTO—The 2015 Printing Leader of the Year Award was presented to Jay Mandarinino, CEO & President of C.J. Graphics and the C.J. Group of Companies, at the Canadian Printing Awards gala on November 12, 2015.

Developed by PrintAction magazine and Annex Business Media, the awards program celebrates world-class printing and industry achievement. "I am extremely proud to be named this year's Printing Industry Leader of the Year," said Mandarinino, whose company has long been known for the high calibre of its work. "This has been a landmark year for us at the C.J. Group of Companies and it brings me great pleasure to bring this award back to our team, clients and suppliers. Without their hard work and dedication our success would not be possible."

Along with Printing Leader of the Year, C.J. won the most awards at this year's show:

- Gold: Brochures & Booklets, Offset
- Gold: Direct Mail
- Gold: Magazines
- Gold: Stationery
- Gold: Specialty Effects
- Silver: Stationery
- Silver: Specialty Effects
- Silver: Calendars
- Silver: Labels
- Silver: Business Cards
- Silver: Finishing
- Silver: Books, Digital
- Bronze: Books, Digital
- Bronze: Brochures & Booklets, Digital
- Bronze: Most Environmentally Progressive Printing Project

Jay Mandarinino founded C.J. Graphics more than 35 years ago and has steadily grown it into the multi-faceted company it is today. It recently opened a third, custom-built, state-of-the-art 75,000 sq. ft. facility in Toronto and is still growing.

The C.J. Group features 29 companies whose complete suite of services includes traditional lithography, digital printing, large-format production, screen printing, interactive solutions, bindery services, fulfillment and logistics services, and publishing. This year it added a Scodix Foil Ultra Pro system with a Scodix Foil Station, the first in the Americas, and a Highcon Euclid 40" automated laser die-cutter and creasing machine, the first in Canada.
